WORST FORM ECZEMA

Blaffed Best Medical Skill for Eight Months. Cured in Two Months by Cuticura Remedies.

This is to certify that a child of mine had Eczema in its worst form, and which caused the best medical skill that could be employed here. The little sufferer was wrapped in agony for at least eight months. His mother, Mrs. J. A. Bulott, writes: "I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, in two months the awful disease had ceased its violence, and my darling boy had been restored to his normal state. I continued the medicine for several months after no trace could be seen of it on any part of his body. The doctors here watched the disease with much interest, and could only say 'Well done!' The case was known far and wide, and everybody was much surprised. But thanks to CUTICURA REMEDIES. Could there be anything on earth that would cause a father to rejoice as I would be when I saw my little boy with such a remedy at hand. (See portrait below.) J. A. BULLOTT, Banker Hill, Ind.

A child was brought to me with chronic eczema that had defied special treatment from many good doctors. As a regular M. D., should have continued similar treatment, but thought it useless. So put it on CUTICURA. The child is well. C. L. SHERMAN, M. D., Jones, Ia.

A BIG RAT CATCHING.

How an Official Building Was Cleaned of Its Plagues of Rodents.

A delusion which has lingered long in the public mind is that "fireproof" buildings, if not actually fireproof, were at least rat-proof, but the idea is no longer entertained at the corporation counsel's office, says the New York News. The city's law department has offices in the Staats Zeitung building, but of late the rats have got so thick as to be a standing admonition of temperance to Corporation Counsel Clark's young assistants.

They ate Mr. Clark's soap, rummaged through his library and nestled in all the snug corners where they were least desired. It is even alleged that one lady rat had the temerity to establish her interesting family in the pocket of an old office coat used by one of the young Blackstones in the office, and when the owner of the coat imprudently introduced his hand into the pocket he got a sharp reminder that caused him to be active for once. Things got so bad that finally, Isaacson, the rat-catcher, was called in, and some three hundred powerful spring traps were scattered about the building, and a number of lithe, wiry ferrets were let loose in the various rat holes. There was a unanimous stampede of the rat population, and a barrel full of dead rodents was carried out. By actual count seventy-one rats were killed. The war will be renewed, and the artists for the morning papers are drawing upon their imaginations and paper all the scenes, to be accompanied by descriptive letter press from accomplished reporters who were not present.

A PHILOSOPHICAL ARTIST.

Was Willing His Creditors Should Sell Him Out.

"A few days ago I met with the toughest case in my whole experience," said the agent of a very successful debt-collecting firm to a London Tid-Bits man. "I tackled my man for three pounds he owes to a restaurant. He's an artist. 'I am sorry,' said he, leaving off work on the picture and pushing his velvet smoking-cap on the back of his head, while he looked lazily at the bill. 'But I cannot pay this for a few months yet.' 'Why not?' said I. 'Because I have more pressing liability.' 'More pressing than a bill of this kind?' said I, sarcastically. 'Yes, a good deal,' said he. 'I'm buying a pair of shoes on the installment plan, and the second shoe is to be delivered to-day if I can make partial payment. The coin is here,' said he, tapping his waistcoat pocket. 'All right,' I said, 'but you just give that coin to me on account or I'll sell you up.' 'Sell what up?' he drawled out. 'Why, these pictures,' said I, sweeping my arm in a comprehensive way round the studio. 'These pictures?' All right, my boy, go ahead. If you can sell them I'll be much obliged to you. It's more than I can do.' With that he lighted his pipe and went on painting as tranquil as a summer's day. I admired him and asked him out to have a drop of something. 'Excuse me,' he said, standing back and regarding his picture with one eye closed, but not even glancing at me. 'I never have social relations with my tradespeople.' I was faint when I got down to the street."

NEGRO ELOQUENCE.

White Bishops Failed to Rouse a Colored Congregation.

White preachers cannot move a colored congregation as the negroes can and do, says the New York Sun. In November, 1890, when the general convention of the Episcopal church met in Richmond, the pastor of the largest colored congregation there—the Baptist church, which had bought and owned its pastor—courtously invited some of the bishops to address them. The choice fell on Bishop Williams, of Connecticut, and Bishop Clarke, of Rhode Island, both extremely eloquent preachers, and they stood up before three thousand hearers and did their best to rouse them. The colored people sat silent, respectful and admiring before the two prelate, and gave no outward sign of interest.

Presently the pastor arose, thanked his visitors in the name of his flock, and then went on to make application of what they had heard. His first words were like a breath of wind over a field of ripening grain. Every head responded. Then came sighs, groans and shouts as the great deep of human feeling was broken up, and three thousand people were in tears and in the throes of sympathy. "I tell you," said one of the bishops afterward, in narrating his experience, "I was ashamed of myself when I watched the power of the colored preacher and recognized my own failure."

Fatal Prize Fight—Distributing Our Naval Vessels—Silver Recovers a Step.

THE SILVER BILL.

NEW YORK—A Washington special to the Herald says: The policy of declaring the position of the democratic house on the tariff and silver questions by means of a series of resolutions will probably be adopted by the democratic caucus. The fight in the caucus, if there be a fight will probably be over the character of the resolution.

Some of the eastern members of the house are very much in earnest on the subject of revenue reduction and are willing to accept strong resolutions in preference to attempts at legislation which might result in the passage of a free coinage bill. The silver resolutions, according to the Gorman-Brice programme, will follow the idea of Senator Hill, that the silver act of 1890 should be revised, and that an international conference on the silver question should be called.

It is hoped that the eastern men will unite with the western men upon this proposition, that both sides will be content to let the matter drop by the adoption of such a resolution.

TRIED TO BE A FIGHTER.

CHICAGO—A Cincinnati special says: Charles Vokes, a well known prize fighter, and Bob Brown, a young man who had never fought in a prize ring before, met last night. It will probably prove fatal to Brown. Time was called for the fifteenth round, and Brown, more dead than alive, tried to stand up. Vokes hit him and he fell in a heap. Brown's father, who was a spectator, then rushed in and stopped the fight. The contest was given to Vokes. Brown was unconscious on the trip back to the city. Every effort was made to revive him but in vain. Arriving in Cincinnati after midnight, Brown was carried away on a stretcher apparently in a dying condition.

WILL NOT RESIGN.

PARIS—The report that Mr. Reid intends to resign the office of United States minister to France is denied by the officials of the United States legation here.

FOR STATEHOOD.

DENVER—A Times special from Washington says: Delegate Joseph of New Mexico said today that there was no doubt that his bill for the admission of that territory would be favorably reported from the house committee and would pass in the house. He said that the only danger in the way of the bill not becoming a law at this session was in the Senate. Next week he expects a delegation of prominent citizens of his territory to arrive in Washington and work in the interest of the admission at the Senate end.

Chas. Johnson Wanted.

To know the whereabouts of Charles Johnson, a swede who in 1890 or thereabouts carried the mail from Kettle river to Superior Wisconsin. At that time Johnson was quite an active fellow and sometimes walked foot races. He left the Lake Superior country in 1895 and came to Arizona. He is of light complexion and below the medium height. Wanted in relation to a large estate in which he is interested. Address, PROSPECTOR, Tombstone, Ariz.
